CULTURAL CONFERENCE

CIOFF® World Congress included a successful CIOFF® Cultural Conference “Living Human Treasures”. CIOFF® Chile introduced Chilean ICH elements.

The first part The Indigenous Language in the Present Context was presented by Dr. José Carlos Vilcapoma, past Vice Minister of Culture of Peru and anthropologist and Rodrigo Aravena Alvarado, National Deputy Director for Intangible Cultural Heritage, National Cultural Heritage Service.

Professor Dr. José Carlos Vilcapoma presented the historical context of the indigenous languages as well as the present situation of the indigenous languages. He presented the first work accomplished by the conquistadors in the analysis of the indigenous languages. He introduced the work of the UNESCO in the 20th century in the field of intangible cultural heritage, including the list of intangible cultural elements which require protection. The focus of such protection was, amongst other, the oral traditions and, in other words, the indigenous languages. The rationale behind such protection is the role played by the language as a form of conversation of knowledge.

Along with Professor Jose Carlos, two ladies of Mapuche origin Maria Hueníñir and Karina Ahumada presented concrete examples of the culture and the language. They explain how the words of the language Mapuche allow the community to keep their audio view of the world.

Rodrigo Aravena Alvarado continued with a presentation on the management of the Intangible Cultural Heritage in Chile. He presented a timeline of institutions created in Chile for intangible cultural heritage. He explained the importance of reaching out to communities to encourage their preservation of intangible cultural heritage, but also executing such work in partnership with other priorities including the welfare of such communities.

A very important contribution in the framework of the preservation of the original languages, also came from the presentation of representatives of the National Section of Peru and Paraguay, on the live expression of “Quechua” and “Guarani” in their respective villages.

OPEN FORUM - UNESCO ICH LIST

CIOFF® Representative to UNESCO Magdalena Tovornik explain the goal - to teach other NGOs how to work with UNESCO, including the 2003 Convention on Intangible Cultural Heritage. She presents the process of submitting intangible cultural element to be recognized by the UNESCO. As for the recognized elements, she invites all National Sections to identify such elements in their groups in order to give emphasis on the work of safeguarding accomplished by these groups.

Nobert Mueller presented a concrete example of how he has worked with the German National Commission for UNESCO to submit a new Intangible Cultural Heritage element for Germany, which was Resist Printing and Indigo Dyeing. He explains that after the recognition as national element of Intangible Cultural Heritage Germany partnered with Austria, Czech Republic, Hungary and Slovakia to submit a joint application to include this element to the Representative List of the Intangible Cultural Heritage of Mankind. This element was accepted by the Committee of the UNESCO Convention for the Safeguarding of Intangible Cultural Heritage in 2018.

A guest from a local NGO presented her work in the field of Intangible Cultural Heritage for the Mapuche Culture.
CIOFF® AND UNESCO

During the year 2019 CIOFF®-UNESCO relations remained one of the priority of our organization. President Philippe Beaussant also in his capacity as a member of UNESCO-NGO Liaison Committee and Magdalena Tovornik as a CIOFF® Representative to UNESCO – we participated to all mayor UNESCO events where NGOs can be present.

The most important event was the 40th UNESCO General Conference in November with a special Conference of 110 ministers of culture of UNESCO member states – they gathered after 20 years to present their problems and ideas to launch an appeal for strengthening the cultural dialogue for sustainable development in the world! The celebration of the 30th Anniversary of UNESCO Convention on the Rights of Children (the main speaker was E.Macron, President of France) was an excellent opportunity to talk about the importance of education for millions of young people all over the world. UNESCO was again opened for NGOs with open space and assistance of the secretariat to present their programs and to learn more about Participation Program.

During the meeting of UNESCO Cultural Commission the new ICH Center in Sharjah was recognized as an official UNESCO Center number 2 for Arabic region.

The second important event was the 14th UNESCO ICH Committee in Bogota where an important CIOFF delegation was present (also members of National sections of Portugal, Colombia, Mexico and Peru). Among other items the discussion on the future role of accredited NGOs was going on by presenting three different models. ICH NGOs Forum adressed the Committee twice and got a lot of support for its future work. The new publication of the publication "Heritage Alive" was presented – the theme chosen for this second edition was the food and the article of Laura Lopez (CIOFF Youth) was not only published but also presented in Bogota.

In the year 2019 CIOFF® obtained for the first time the UNESCO Participating Program "The role of women in the civil society of masks in Africa". Two main events were organized in Cotonou, Benin: the scientific Conference on this subject in March (chaired by MT with experts from Benin, Burkina Fasso, Togo, Mali and Ivory Cost) and a festival of Masks in December. The final report must be presented at the end of 2019.
