FATHER OF FOLKLORE AND CIOFF® IS GONE!

IN FONDEST MEMORY OF HENRI COURSAGET

Monday March 21, 2010 Henri Coursaget “Father of folklore” passed away and Confolens has been overwhelmed by sorrow.
He was a well-known pharmacist in the Confolens-region. He loved the theatre and the stage, and in 1957, he didn’t hesitate even one second, to take over the reins of the Confolens Festival. During 50 years, he has been in the lead of this association, while feeling strongly about the colours of Confolens, friendship between all human beings, respect for distinction, for cultures and the profusion of arts and popular tradition. After having fulfilled its chairmanship during 50 years, he became honorary president of his Festival. He had the maturity to withdraw with delicacy, in order to assure that his Festival might continue to spread all over the world. During these 50 years, he had the ability to thrill 5 million spectators, he has organized 1 750 000 performances.
He dreamed about bringing people on stage who were each others’ opponents, like Americans and Russians during the Cold War, or Palestinians and Israelis, and many more.
He moved mountains to realize these feats of strength, and dancers and musicians fraternized, undisturbed by any politics. That was his reward.

By founding the International Council of Folklore Festivals, CIOFF®, on August 8, 1970, with a couple of international friends, he crystallized his message of peace. CIOFF® is the only non-governmental organization for protection of arts and traditions that is represented at the UNESCO. CIOFF® has several aims:

- first of all, to create links between festivals and traditional groups from different countries (about one hundred at this day),
- further, to allow groups from far-away countries, to come and make a tour,
- and last but not least, to bring about an ever growing brotherhood of men and serve the cause of PEACE.

Currently, CIOFF® coordinates 250 festivals all over the world and enables 50 000 artists from all corners of the world, to meet and exchange.
Your dream, dear Henri, is realised and will continue for a very long time.
In the hearts of the Confolentians, Henri Coursaget will be remembered as a man with a view, for whom nothing is impossible, a humble man who has been capable of achieving miracles. He has taught us – CONFOLENTIANS and people from all over the world alike – to open up our hearts to all these people who come to reach out to us as brothers and sisters.

He was tireless, on all levels, towards anybody and at any moment. For me, as a child, he was Santa Claus, the one who made the feast come true in August, at Confolens, every year again!
He was the one who founded this huge world organization of 100 countries, called CIOFF®, right here at CONFOLENS. All these years, he has been a peace sower, a spender.
of generosity and of hope, right here in the heart of our beloved Charente Limousine. This warmth, this feast, this communion between people, these smiles and these tears transform CONFOLENS into a universe full of friendship.

For many years, he also been the pharmacist of the voluntary fire brigade. By the way, he trained his youngest son, to step in his shoes. He was the pioneer of pharmacology in the ambulance equipment at the first aid centre at Confolens. In perfect harmony with the doctors of the centre, he gave everything he got during the interventions that were linked to the rescue of helpless victims.

Very soon, he was recognized and rewarded by the departmental organization of the fire and rescue brigades. He became the first pharmacist commander in chief and he ended his career being a colonel. Confolens’ fire workers will never forget him nor, in particular, his commitment to the organization, of which he filled the post of chairman for many years. He has always been at their sides and he was part of the big solidarity family.

As he was also part of many other associations like JUMBORUN, RO-TARY CLUB and many others, it is impossible to mention them all here, he will leave a huge emptiness in the Confolens region. Nevertheless, dear Henri, be assured that there will be many of us to spread your values in Confolens and throughout the world. Their roots are solidly embedded in every Confolens citizen and all over the world. What you have sown on the way that you have tracked, will bear fruit for a long time to come.

For all the volunteers and all the friends, it will be very difficult to imagine, that he will never again encourage them nor see his smile again and that his fragile body will never again run from one place to the other during the Confolens Festival and during the CIOFF® meetings and festivals all over the world.

Hats off to you, artist!

FATHER OF FOLKLORE AND CIOFF® IS GONE!
IN FONDEST MEMORY OF HENRI COURSAGET

We were in 1970. The legendary way of Fanny Thibout to convince people made me arrive at the border of the Baptismal Font of CIOFF®. I performed the remarkable job of secretary of the Belgian representative, Fanny Thibout, during the development of the statutes of this organisation, which Henri Coursaget strongly believed in. Born in 1924 in a small town in Charentes in France as a son of a pharmacist he himself was also a professional chemist and hard as a marble counter. His father forced him to study pharmacy in Toulouse. However during this time he also followed introductory courses of dramatic art with Louis Jouvet. Nevertheless one day Louis Jouvet told him “Do the pharmacy anyway, it could be useful”. However Henri did not take this smart advice seriously and “forgot” to pass the pharmacy exams. Appropriate anger of father Gustave Coursaget. Henri back to his place as son.

The lessons and advice of Louis Jouvet marked Henri for his entire life. It resulted in an unquenchable thirst for costume and representation, an inborn sense of show, an overwhelming feeling for presentation on stage”. After his marriage he took over his father’s pharmacy and engaged himself as a matter of course in the social life of his region: president of the local cinema club and pharmacist-biologist at the fire-brigade, where he made it to lieutenant-colonel. Henri Coursaget said afterwards: “Meeting the firemen has given me balance as well as zest for life. And one philosophy: “Never take yourself too seriously. During these fifty years I had reverses, many times I felt lonely. But I always reacted: Success is dangerous, failures are stimulating. Don’t forget I am of the sign of the Taurus”.

The festival of Confolens, founded in 1958, turned out to be very successful. This first edition was dedicated to folklore of the West, this means the west of France of course. After this issue and when the president retired, Henri accepted the presidency “only for two or three years”. The reality would not take into account this initial intention. Henri Coursaget presided the festival of Confolens during forty-nine years...

Henri Coursaget was an idealist. The folklore of the entire world should be the motor, never blocked, of mutual respect between peoples, whatever be their religion, whatever be the political system they live in, whatever be their social class. I witnessed the sounding of the song “folkloric” at the opening of the festivals of 1970 and 1972.” Girls and boys, one day gathered in our dear old Limousin in the joy that unites us, come together and hold hands”.

He was pathetic, transcended by fervency and would have stopped all conflicts either hidden or declared of the seventies. There exists a caricature that shows it very clearly. We see Henri Coursaget in front of his pharmacy, wondering before the three Greats of that period: Mao Tse Tung, Leonid Brezhnev and Richard Nixon, humbly demanding the ways to arrive at the “World Peace”.

1970 and an idea brewed at Confolens, initiated by the enormous cost to organise the successive festivals since 1958. Why not spread the efforts by creating tours between the different festivals? Therefore it was necessary to create a structure to coordinate the whole. Henri Coursaget organizes a meeting on the 8, 9 and 10 August in the city hall of Confolens with the principal responsible persons of the participating groups as well as the delegates of the Ministries of Culture present. Around the table of the Municipal Council were Fanny Thibout - and me behind her conscientiously taking notes – and ten more national representatives. Finally Henri Coursaget took the presidency of the International Council of Organisations of Folklore Festivals (CIOFF according to the French name). This organisation of which the seat is still in Confolens, counts today 90 members, national sections in 72 countries (of which CIOFF® Belgium is one) and 18 Associate and Corresponding members.

Thank you, Mister Coursaget. Henri Coursaget left us last March at the age of 87. Rest in peace!

Administrator of the Federation of Walloon Folklore Groups (FGFW) in Belgium

IN FONDEST MEMORY OF HENRI COURSAGET

All the festival organisers in the World know how every year before the festival starts you pray for good weather.

Henri Coursaget had his little trick. Every year just before the start of Confolens Festival Henri used to visit the nuns in a Convent in Limoges. He would carry a dozen eggs in his hat all the way to the Convent to present the eggs to the nuns. The nuns would then pray for good weather for the whole of the Confolens Festival week. And the Confolens Festival was always blessed with good weather for many many years!! Unfortunately recently the nuns became more interested in cheques and money...

ROLF LEANDER - CIOFF® HONORARY MEMBER

A TRIBUTE TO A REAL GENTLEMAN

I have never in my life met a person who could have been more dedicated to a cause or more committed to his work than Rolf Leander was dedicated to CIOFF® and committed to his work as Secretary General and Treasurer of this organization. He was elected treasurer in 1987 and Secretary General in 1988 and served until his voluntary retirement in 1997. In order to understand his contribution one has to remember that during those years the members of the Council did not have any specific tasks assigned to them, so the Council had in effect only two working members: the President and the Secretary General/Treasurer. During his time of duty, CIOFF® experienced a rapid growth of both membership and activities, but Rolf was always prepared to cope with the new challenges and increasing work load. Fortunately – for him as well as for the CIOFF® – he could enjoy the invaluable co-operation and assistance of his charming wife Inga.

Despite his important position and unique services for CIOFF®, he was as modesty itself, never pushing himself to the front, but conducting his tasks impeccably in the shadow of the President and the Council. Those who had the privilege to know him, will keep him in the highest esteem: a real gentleman, always friendly and polite, ready to help whenever asked.

MAURA SHANNAHAN - CIOFF® IRELAND DELEGATE

A TRIBUTE TO A DEDICATED IRISH DANCE TEACHER

It was with great sadness that we have recently learnt of the passing of Maura Shannahan on 30th November 2010, who was the National Delegate for CIOFF® Ireland for many years.

She was a lovely lady with a fantastic personality and will be a great loss not only to Irish dancing but to all of our CIOFF® Family.

May she rest in peace.

FOCUS ON CIOFF® YOUTH
TRUE WEALTH LIES IN SUPPORTING EACH OTHER

The beauty of CIOFF® is in its richness. Richness of various and unique cultures. Cultures that have existed throughout the years in harmony, even together in same areas. Enhancing each other, but never competing. Unfortunately there are also societies with lack of balance, which leads towards contention. We can see the wish of being better than the others everywhere - organisations have to generate new ways to be the most innovative, to get the best funding, publicity or presentation. This has also transferred to children - we are taught at schools how to be the best, the main attention has been given to the result. During this we forget the most important – the content that makes us unique. So we should learn from those who know best, from folklore bearers that surround us. Their viability and sustainability is based on valuing what they have and also on their will for continuous learning. With having the possibility to see these singularities as richness, learning by drawing common parallels and supporting each other (irrespective of countries, nations, races or age) in the name of same goals, we, the youth, want to value the harmony and to contribute to the ideals we all have.

FOCUS ON CIOFF® NATIONAL SECTIONS

CIOFF® FRANCE

The members of the Executive Board of CIOFF® France met at the end of May in Confolens to pay a tribute to Henry Coursaget and meet his family. On that occasion they spent some more time to work in order to prepare our congress in Paris 2012. During this meeting it occurred that we became aware that our French Section does not have the same way of organization as in many other countries and may be we could focus on the French specificity about the strength of nonprofit association in our society.

The Government of France, and therefore the Ministry of Culture, has its own way to promote folk arts and it does not include nonprofit association like French popular lively expressions of amateurs dancing and playing traditional music: either they express their consideration in opening great museums like Les Arts Premiers in le Quai Brany in which are exhibited archeological pieces of popular art such as ancient Masks of Andes or they do not take into account the French popular lively expressions of amateurs dancing and playing traditional music. As a matter of fact they often consider today this expression of popular culture as backward looking and somehow without the slightest interest.

The context is historical: after the war, all the movement about folk arts became part of the Youth and Sports Ministry (Popular Education Department) and disappeared from the Ministry of Culture.

This is the reason why links are very often maintained with organizations with different national associations and organizations like la Ligue de l’Enseignement with which we are going to work for the congress. It will provide us accommodation, meals and all the conditions for good meetings in a pleasant and friendly atmosphere.

An added specificity of France involves a huge number of volunteers that give their time and money in what we call “les Associations” (for Sports or cultural, social and humanitarian purposes) and of course in the sector of folklore.

French folk groups and Festivals would not have the same quality without the support and the involvement of those thousands of people whatever their origin, age or environment. It is certainly difficult to understand all their motivations but let’s say that it is often a question of contribution for a cause they think right and certainly a great feeling of compassion and generosity.

This is why we want during the congress to take advantage of this opportunity to make our guests feel this special way of people’s commitment full of consideration and caring.

Our collective ambition is to give our guests from all over the world the best conditions to work for the purpose of understanding and peace.

CIOFF® ARGENTINA– 20TH CONGRESS AND ANNUAL ASSEMBLY

In 1985 Professor Hugo Ifran joined CIOFF® at the World Congress in Tallinn (Estonia). In 1988 Argentina formed the open, representative and democratic CIOFF® National Section. It was one of the first National Sections of CIOFF® to become institutionalised. Since then its members, individuals, organisations and guests hold an annual assembly to assess the work done and on-going CIOFF® projects. For the third time Santa Fe played host to more than fifty members from various parts of Argentina who took part in the Assembly, and other activities and events surrounding the Assembly: Conference, Open Forum, performances, etc.

The main international issues of discussions at the Assembly were the participation of musicians, dancers and craftsmen from Argentina in CIOFF® World Folkloriada, representation of the National Section at the CIOFF® World Congress in Brazil and participation of the groups from Argentina in International Festivals all over the World.

The Open Forum included various topics for discussion: different aspects of participation of groups in festivals, their preparation. The Forum also included a workshop on various aspects of traditional culture and folklore of different regions.

The youth section discussed the next issue of their newsletter, which will cover the research they are doing in different parts of Argentina.

The Cultural Commission continued its work on updating “Who is Who” in CIOFF® Argentina and started the work on photo archives for the National Section.

CIOFF® ARGENTINA– FORUM FOR GROUP DIRECTORS

CIOFF® Argentina is continuing its training programme for the group directors, which is recognised by the National Section. In accordance with this programme, CIOFF® Argentina organised and held on 10th and 11th of June in the city of Brinkmann, Cordoba Province, a Forum for group directors in order to discuss “The guidelines for Groups” received from CIOFF® Festivals Commission.

The Forum’s main topic was to specify the role of the group’s director prior to a festival tour. The forum was led by Prof. Hugo Ifran, Marcelo Alcoba, Abel Cerrutti, Beatriz Sangoy and Rodolfo Revollo. The Forum also included a workshop and dance and music performance.

The Forum is aimed to ensure that the directors of the groups invited to CIOFF® Festivals have knowledge and understanding of how the CIOFF® Festivals work and what quality is expected from the attending groups, and thus can comply with CIOFF® Rules.

CIOFF® Argentina is hoping that this work will help improve both groups and festivals for the future of CIOFF® work.

CIOFF® ISRAEL—FOLK DANCES IN SCHOOL’S CURRICULUM

Lately the Dance Department of the Ministry of Education of the State of Israel with CIOFF® and folk dance instructors taking part, convened all the leading people in dance education in Israel: dance teachers, directors of dance programs in the schools and conservatories school principals, representatives of Teachers Training institutes academies of Music and Dance etc.

The purpose of the gathering was to initiate a program for "Dance Education for All", to be included in the school curriculum.

The proposed curriculum includes Israeli folk dances; the inclusion is based on the assumption that folk dances are "cultural assets". The initiators of the curriculum believe that it is important to lay the foundation of the "love" of folk dances at a very early age.

Teaching Israeli folk dances enables young people to get to know the cultures of the diversity of ethnic groups and minorities which compose the multicultural society of Israel.

The curriculum includes teaching the heritage of our folk dances and their roots, integrating folk dances in other school subject matters; developing the concept of "Dancing Schools" in which the pupils dance in the school-yards during the intermissions; schools in which folk dances are included in the schools various activities and festive celebrations.

Teaching folk dances is expected to affect the "School climate", reduce violence and unsocial behavior, strengthen cultural identities, social solidarity and develop a sense of belonging.

CIOFF® ITALY—GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The CIOFF® Italy National Section held its General Assembly from April 14th to April 17th, 2011.

At the opening ceremony, the President Sergio Piemonti celebrated the memory of Henri Courcaget, founder of CIOFF®, as well as of the other CIOFF® “fathers” that left but without leaving us; the audience participated with one minute of silence.

The meeting was a very important occasion to register the strengthening of the organization, which received a number of new applications, but also to rejoice for some important recognition.

In the framework of the celebrations for 150th Anniversary of the National Unity (on March 17th, 2011), CIOFF® Italy was awarded the “recognition of national interest” from the Ministry of Cultural Heritage and Activities.

Next year CIOFF® Italy will celebrate the 25th anniversary of its founding, which took place in Latina (Rome) in 1987. Prior to that, in October 2011, the autumn organization meeting will be held in Bergamo.

Moreover, the National Section, thanks to the leading impulse of its President, is planning a new initiative aimed at the coordination and synergy among the different associations, organizations, etc., dealing with folklore activities in Italy. The planned national “Folklore States General”, to be promoted by CIOFF® Italy, will evaluate initiatives aimed at the protection and support of the treasures of traditional culture and – last but not least – provide measures to cooperate in order to share efficiently the always narrowing financial resources.
